What is the Urban Land Institute?

The Urban Land Institute (ULI) is an influential global organisation with a mission to provide leadership in the responsible use of land and in creating and sustaining thriving communities worldwide.

Established in 1936, the ULI now has a membership of around 40,000 internationally. With this broad sector membership, the ULI facilitates invaluable opportunities for members to engage and learn from different disciplines and to deepen existing relationships with professionals from around the world.

ULI is a neutral, non-lobbying and not-for-profit research and education Institute. ULI Councils are formed to share best practice and experience and their meetings are run under 'Chatham House rules' to allow for stimulating and thought-provoking discussions.
